

Effective Differentiation in the Classroom

Facilitator: Joe Brown, Associate, Karen Ardley Associates

A one-day programme that explores and develops practical strategies to maximise progress and attainment across the curriculum, providing ideas, resources and approaches that maximise learning within the classroom.

Objectives:

- To understand the concept of Personalised Pupil Provision and explore how this can be incorporated into both the primary and secondary classroom
- To further develop participants' knowledge and understanding of effective differentiation and how this impacts on pupil progress
- To consider current research and excellent practise surrounding key strategies and resources that support accelerated progress, exploring how they can be implemented within day to day practise.

The programme will focus on the following key areas:

- Personalised Pupil Provision
- Bloom's Taxonomy
- Questioning
- Effective Assessment
- Interventions at the point of need
- Strategies and resources to support learning

This programme provides the opportunity for you to reflect on current practises whilst sharing new, inspiring and engaging strategies, that will greatly impact upon pupil progress and attainment. You will leave the programme with a wealth of ideas to implement within the classroom that will excite both you and your class.
